Q: What is causing the delay in the paving program on the East Side where petitions have been signed for over a year? Furthermore, why doesn't Corsicana apply for federal help from HUD, which will pay two-thirds of the costs of all street improvements?

A: The biggest thing delaying further construction under the paving program anywhere in Corsicana, not exclusively the East Side, is the fact "there aren't enough names on petitions on file to qualify," says City Manager Bob Brockman. Most petitions on file—and there are quite a few—don't even have 50 per cent of the signatures of owners, let alone the required 75 per cent.

To qualify to get a block or several blocks, owners of 75 per cent of the abutting property in a designated area must sign. Signatures of "renters" don't meet the requirement. Just filing a petition with the required minimum number of streets doesn't mean construction can start the next day.

The City Engineer must verify signatures as owners of the property, then work up engineering data on the project, then work up estimates of costs to each separate property owner based on his front footage, whether the petition is just for paving, or paving with curbs and gutters and whether or not petitioners also are seeking a sidewalk. If a sidewalk is desired, additional cost estimates must be worked up on that aspect. From that point, a public hearing has to be advertised in advance that Corsicana will "consider" a paving assessment program, notify the affected owners and hold a public hearing.

As for HUD paying for two-thirds of such costs, the City Manager isn't aware this munificence is so readily available. Maybe you know something he doesn't and should pass on to him the source of this knowledge.

Q: Can you tell me when I can anticipate not finding an east-west train on the Cotton Belt line not blocking me as I go to work? I live at S. 2nd St. and Old Water Works road and am late to work two or three mornings a week because it seems there's a freight train, sometimes stopped, that holds me up wherever I try to cross between S. 7th St. and S. 1st. I go to work at 8:30 a.m. downtown and have tried leaving home as early as 8 a.m. to "beat" the train. (G.R.)

A: Even Railroad Agent W. H. Ford can't tell you when there won't be a train. Whereas passenger trains (when there were passenger trains locally) had schedules and had to maintain them as closely as possible, freight trains have schedules, but seldom are running on time. He pointed out that on occasions a freight due here at 2 a.m. hasn't arrived until as late as 9 a.m. With two morning trains in each direction going through Corsicana on this line "they could come through at any time so there really is no way to say when a train will or won't be on schedule." Because of this, he says he couldn't advise when not to expect to find a train temporarily blocking any crossing.

Recently a question answered in Daily Act-Sun from a reader inquiring about whether a new chemical plant under construction near Corsicana would pollute the city's air. The question from a reader carried with it a comment from the inquirer that implied the Nipak plant east of Kerens was polluting the air around Cedar Creek.

Daily Act-Sun telephoned both the Nipak plant and its parent company, Lone Star Gas Co., in Dallas offering them the opportunity to refute this implication.

Officials advised they were not offended or upset and confirmed this by the following letter to the column's coordinator from Jim Christian, manager of Lone Star Gas media services public relations department:

"Dear Betty:

"It was nice to talk to you recently. I was pleased but not particularly surprised by the Sun's offer to let Nipak answer the pollution reference in a question published in the paper's 'Act-Sun' column. To be perfectly candid, I would have done just that in a great many papers on our system, but with the Sun there is no need. We have always found the paper and its staff to be constructive, helpful and particularly patient when we don't get the statement to you on time or misspell 'cat' or some such. You in particular have been helpful in this regard, and I shouldn't have waited for a little flap like this to read it into the record. I know that Lone Star and Nipak as parts of your community always have (no pun intended) a place in the Sun."

NEW CARDS HELP PERSONS WITH AN IDENTITY PROBLEM
...Mrs. Finis Martin tells Ginger Owen, 15, about the cards

With New I.D. Cards

Identify Yourself

By ROB MECKEL
Sun Staff Writer

An easy means of identifying oneself without having to unroll a folded birth or baptismal certificate has been available to the public for just about a full month now, but according to local Department of Public Safety officials, only three people have taken advantage of the service.

Mrs. Finis D. Martin, clerk at the local DPS Driver's License Issuance office, said the department has had available since September 1, identification cards as a convenience for people who do not have a driver's license or other easily accessible official identification card.

The plastic I.D. card looks very similar to a driver's license except that it clearly indicates it is "Not for use as a driving permit," she said.

To obtain one of these cards, Mrs. Martin said, the applicant must go to the office at 319 W. 1st Ave. He pays a $5 fee for each card. A picture is taken of the applicant and placed on the card.

There is no age limit for persons to purchase one of the I.D. cards, she added. Applicants must bring their birth or baptismal certificate with them for proof of identity.

Most of the people who apply for these cards are usually persons too young to have a driver's license, and some of the older people who also do not have a license. The card is a handy item to have when writing checks, Mrs. Martin said.

Doctor Denied Permission To Use Memorial Hospital

By NELL FISCHER
Sun Staff Writer

The board of managers of Navarro County Hospital upheld a former decision to deny the practice of Dr. Joe Frank Schooler in the hospital during a regular meeting Thursday night.

In a prepared statement, the joint committee appointed by the board to research the doctor's previous practice, recommended that his application for admission to the hospital's medical staff be denied.

It stated, "the presence of Dr. Schooler as a practitioner on the medical staff of Memorial Hospital would cause or bring about personnel problems and conflicts; a disruption of the normal and orderly operation of hospital policies and practices and consequently reduce the quality of medical care presently provided by the hospital."

The committee further believes "his admission to the medical staff would present to this hospital the same source of problems and complaints as the Fort Worth and Hubbard hospitals found to be intolerable."

The statement explained that the committee had explored the doctor's previous experience, but the hospitals decline to give detailed information except for length of tenure.

However, it did receive information regarding an open court trial in Fort Worth in which Dr. Schooler was seeking re-instatement into the Tarrant County Medical Society.

According to the committee's statement, "...the record of that trial established Dr. Schooler was terminated as a member of the Medical staffs of Harris Hospital, All Saints Hospital, Ft. Worth Children's Hospital and St. Joseph's Hospital, as well as a member of the Tarrant County Medical Society...and all from 1967 to 1969."

It continued, "While on the various medical staffs the court record indicates that the manner in which he conducted himself with patients and other medical personnel jeopardized the orderly and normal function of the named hospitals."

"Allegations made at the trial accused him of unprofessional conduct, an inability to maintain good working relationships with hospital personnel and associates, fee overcharging and others."

"When given an opportunity before this committee to comment on the charges against him brought out in the Ft. Worth trial, Dr. Schooler explained that his medical problems and troubles in Ft. Worth stemmed from concerted efforts of two or three Ft. Worth doctors motivated by personal animosity, intent upon forcing him out of the Ft. Worth medical society community.

The committee also stated that that information was not available as to his practice in the Hubbard hospital, although, "it is generally known that this association ended amid disagreement and conflict between Dr. Schooler and other hospital personnel. Dr. Schooler declined to enlighten the committee on circumstances surrounding his dismissal from Hubbard Hospital."

On the other hand, the committee reports, "...there are those who exalt his medical ability. For the most part, evidence in this area is circumstantial."

"Documented certificates of completed courses of study attest to the fact that Dr. Schooler has had extensive training in his specialty—orthopedics."

The board first accepted the recommendation and then voted to refuse his appeal for admission.

In other business, the board reviewed a list of new equipment presented by the medical staff. Appearing on the staff's

NJC Student Hit by Car On Campus

A foreign student at NJC from Bangkok, Thailand was admitted to Memorial Hospital with a fractured pelvis Monday night after being run over on campus by a car backing up.

Admitted at 7:30 p.m. with multiple abrasions as well as a sophomore student, Meewan Pantasuporn, 24, resident of Girls Dorm No. 2.

Corsicana police and college officials said she was struck as she walked across a parking lot by a car driven by Robert Lee Mitchell, 804 E. 15th Ave., a former student visiting on campus, as he backed his car from near a boys dorm.

Students bodily lifted the car off the injured student to minimize injury that might have resulted by driving it forward, according to Dr. Ben Jones, president, and Police Chief Don Massey.

A police investigation was continuing into the mishap Tuesday by police in cooperation with the college since the mishap occurred on private property.

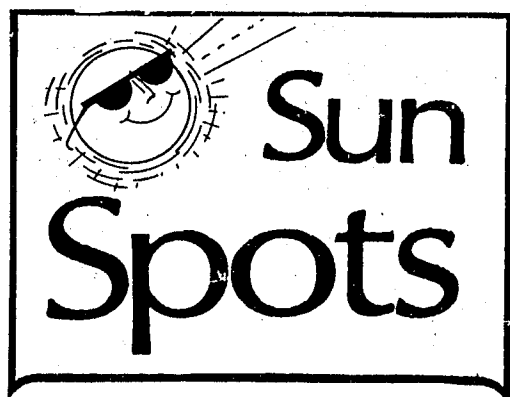

behalf, Dr. C. David Campbell commented that this was the most complete and most thorough list of needed equipment he had seen since he joined the staff.

The board also looked at the capital expenditures and the source of funds for the next three years.

This year, expenditures include, $63,834, county; $29,488, hospital; $15,286, special funds; $96,833, Drane Foundation, with a total of $205,441.

Sources for this year are estimated: county $25,000; hospital $65,000; special funds, $18,286; Drane foundation $96,833 and total $205,119.

The board noted that inpatient charge-offs were $6,946.05, with outpatient charge-offs totaling $843.53, for a total of $7,789.58.

Wine Stolen From Boxcars

Corsicana police and special agents of the Southern Pacific railroad Thursday were continuing a joint probe into a burglary of four boxcars in which a large but undetermined quantity of wine was stolen.

Chief Don Massey said the railroad reported the burglary Wednesday about 5 p.m. The boxcars were believed to have been looted between 6:40 a.m. Wednesday when the 90-car freight train arrived here from Hearne en route to Tyler and 8:15 a.m.

The freight train was parked during that period in the Hill Yards east of IH 45 by-pass.

As of today, railroad authorities still had not determined the exact loss.

Chief Massey said police walked the tracks throughout the holding yards and found where it is believed a truck entered the yards to load the stolen merchandise.

Sewell Seeks To Transfer County Case

An order by 13th District Court Judge James Sewell, filed in the office of the Navarro County Clerk Sept. 1, has instructed that the case involving a grand jury indictment against Jack Youngblood for simple assault be transferred to and tried in justice court.

The court order to transfer the case, indicated that it be transferred to Justice Court, Precinct No. 1, Place 2, the court of Peace Justice Howe French.

When asked whether the case would be transferred, County Clerk Clyde Riddell said the case would remain on the county court docket until he was otherwise instructed by County Judge Kenneth Douglas.

The case is among those on a county court docket list on record as due to appear for a hearing Oct. 4 at 9 a.m.

Riddell said when a grand jury indictment is handed down, cases are transcribed to county court by the district judge.

City Sales Tax Check Up $10,000

Corsicana's second quarter sales tax check was received Monday and it was up by almost $10,000 over the comparable period for 1970, City Secretary Nelda Neal announced.

The 1 cent sales levy produced $86,580 for Corsicana for the three months April, May and June, for an increase of $9,900 over last year. The 1970 second quarter check was for $76,680.

Normally, the city's check for the third quarter (July, August and September) isn't received until late December, and the final quarter's collection comes in the following year around March.

For the first six months the city has realized a total of $160,129 in sales tax revenue which goes into the general operating fund.

Happiness Is a Mudhole

The weather hasn't turned so cool that a dip in a pond at midday isn't refreshing. This porker, oblivious to his mates sleeping peacefully on the bank, waded in to his nose, then dozed off. It all took place on a farm just north of Fairfield near the Big Brown Steam Electric Plant. (Sun Staff Photo)

These Sweets Make Great Gifts

Homemade food makes perfect hearty welcome gifts for a new neighbor and tells a shut-in someone really cares. Homemade Banana Bran Muffins, Orange Marmalade and Chocolate Coconut Caramels are three nice ways to say, "Hi."

BRAN MUFFINS
1/2 cup unsifted all-purpose

2 cups flour
2 1/2 teaspoons sugar
2 1/2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
1/4 teaspoon baking soda
1 egg, beaten
1/2 cup mashed ripe bananas (about 2 medium)
1/2 cup milk
3 tablespoons shortening, melted
1 1/2 cups bran flakes with sugar-coated raisins (*Or use 3/4 cup sifted all-purpose flour; then sift dry ingredients together.)

Mix together flour, sugar, baking powder, soda and salt. Combine egg, bananas and milk. Add to flour mixture; then add shortening and mix only enough to dampen flour. Fold in cereal. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full. Bake at 425 degrees for 15 to 20 minutes or until muffins spring back when pressed lightly in centers. Serve with butter and orange marmalade, if desired.

sired. Makes 10 medium muffins.
Note: These muffins may be prepared at night and baked the next morning. Prepare muffin batter as directed and pour into greased muffin pans. Wrap pans in dampened cheesecloth, then in wax paper, and store overnight in refrigerator. Remove pans the next morning and let stand about 15 minutes, or while oven is heating. Bake as directed.

ORANGE MARMALADE
3 cups prepared fruit (3 medium oranges, 2 medium lemons, 1/2 cups water, and 1/2 teaspoon baking soda)
5 cups (2 1/2 lb.) sugar
1/2 bottle liquid fruit pectin
First prepare the fruit. Remove skins in quarters from 3 oranges and 2 lemons. Lay quarters flat; shave off and discard about half of white part. With a sharp knife or scissors, slice remaining rind very fine, or chop or grind. Add 1 1/2 cups water and 1/2 teaspoon baking soda. Bring to a boil and simmer, covered, 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. Section or chop peeled fruit; discard seeds. Add pulp and juice to undrained cooking rind. Simmer, covered, 10 minutes longer. Measure 3 cups into a large saucepan.

Then make the marmalade. Thoroughly mix sugar into fruit in saucepan. Place over high heat, bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and at once stir in fruit pectin. Skim off foam with metal spoon. Then stir and simmer for 7 minutes to cool slightly and prevent floating fruit. Ladle quickly into glasses. Cover at once with 1-inch hot paraffin. Makes about 7 medium glasses.

Swedish Ham With Potatoes

Those with Scandinavian ancestry probably are familiar with Plaskstek med Hasselbackpotatis or Swedish Roast Ham with potatoes. Hasselbackpotatis gets its name from a restaurant in Stockholm where they prepare potatoes in this manner.

2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 teaspoon ground ginger
6 to 8 medium baking potatoes
3 tablespoons fine dry bread crumbs
3 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese
Score fat and skin of ham in two directions to make a diamond pattern. Mix together 1 teaspoon of the salt, pepper and ginger. Rub cut areas with mixture. Insert meat thermometer into fat side so that the point reaches center of the largest muscle, but does not touch bone. Place ham on V-shape rack in roasting pan, leaving room for potatoes in bottom. Roast in 325-degree oven 30 to 35 minutes per pound (about 4 hours) or until thermometer reaches 185 degrees. Two hours before time roast should be done, prepare potatoes. Peel one potato and place beside, but not on, a thin chopping board or wooden spoon handle. Slice into 1/4-inch slices without cutting all the way through potato. The board or spoon handle keeps the knife from slicing through. Place in a bowl of cold water and continue until all potatoes are sliced. Drain and dry with a towel. Place potatoes around ham. Using a bulb baster, baste each with drippings; sprinkle with remaining 1 teaspoon salt. Continue roasting, basting potatoes frequently, for 45 minutes.

Sprinkle bread crumbs over potatoes, baste again and continue roasting 15 to 20 minutes or until potatoes are tender and roast has reached 185 degrees. To avoid overcooking, if roast isn't finished, remove potatoes and keep warm. When roast is finished, remove to platter. Sprinkle potatoes with cheese and return to oven for 10 minutes. Serve potatoes with roast ham. Makes 6 to 8 servings with leftovers on the ham.

Students Get SS Benefit

More than 500,000 students are presently receiving benefits from social security each month under the child-student provisions of the law, Bruce Grady, Field Representative from Corsicana, reports.

Children, between the ages of 18 and 22 who are unmarried and fulltime students in an accredited school, are entitled to these student benefits on the accounts of their insured parents, he explained.

One out of every 12 students attending school is receiving assistance toward the advancement of his education as a result of these benefits. Students attending professional and business schools, as well as education institutions, may qualify for these benefits.

Mr. Grady said that many children eligible for student benefits, as well as regular children benefits (under age 18), may not be getting them because of a failure to understand amendments which were enacted in 1967.

A child may qualify on his mother's account if she was fully insured at the time of her death, the same provisions under which the child may qualify on his father's account.

Mr. Grady emphasized that any student eligible for benefits on his mother's account and presently not receiving them should contact the nearest social security office by phone or in person to file the necessary application as soon as possible.

Well, there "AINT" nothing that will beat the TRUTH. If you tell a lie you're bound to get caught sooner or later. And the way my luck runs I'd get caught sooner. The fact is that the boss asked me to use the Golden Circle Area news in my column this Sunday. I gathered all the envelopes together from Kerens, Wortham, Bazette, Mexia and other towns and put them in my brief case. I told him I'd type the column at home. I had quite a few stops to make at different merchants BEFORE I ever got home and WHAT DO YOU THINK HAPPENED? YOU GUESSED IT THE FIRST TIME! About half of them fell out of my brief case. I retraced my visits and only found the letters from the ones mentioned above. So my sincere regrets. I'll take four lashes from all of you nice reporters who took the time to write the news from your town and no tell'n what I'll take from the boss. But imagine I'll know soon enough!

Honestly, I do apologize. The mail that I received this week was mostly personal. Everyone seems very pleased with the cooler weather but I do not have any fish stories to tell you, maybe next time.

Above all, do write—keep your disposition pleasant and cheerful. Greet people with a smile and a kind word. Don't complain about all work and no play, our society, long hair, short shorts... Aunt Louise losing the mail, just don't gripe except when no one else can hear you, and when you can't hear yourself.

Everywhere I go people ask me what happened to the cool weather I said was here the first day of Autumn. Where indeed? Maybe by the time this column is in the paper there will be a change. It DOES seem like we're overdue!

And who has caught a fish lately? Not me. I haven't even been and have had no reports of anyone else having any fantastic luck.

I did have company last weekend. Sue and Mike spent Friday night and Saturday in Roane visiting Sue's parents, the Garland Grays. Saturday night they attended a wedding in Tyler. Sunday they visited with yours truly.

Congratulations to The David Trents on their first anniversary! And David had a birthday too!

From Fairfield:

The First United Methodist Church of Fairfield will have a Building Dedication Service Sunday morning, October 3rd, with the presiding Bishop D. Kenneth W. Copeland and District Superintendent to be in Fairfield to conduct the service of dedication for the church building which has just recently been declared free of debt. The dedication will fill the morning worship hour followed by a covered dish luncheon and a dedication of the Youth Building.

The First Church of the Methodist Episcopal Church appointed Reverend George W. Burrows to serve the Union Church in 1885 and for twenty years Methodist preachers continued to serve until 1872 or 1873 when the church was destroyed by fire.

The First Methodist Church was built in 1876 on the site of the present church and parsonage. It was damaged by a storm in 1901 and remodeled. In 1933 a few days after the Reverend G. C. Condrey moved in the parsonage burned, the church was damaged and all records destroyed. It was immediately rebuilt and in 1938 a new church was completed and was to serve the needs of the congregation until 1965 when the modern brick church was built plus a much needed educational building.

Sixty pastors have served the church and it has grown to more than three hundred members and a property evaluation of $150,000.00. Each Sunday morning at 10:00 o'clock it calls the citizens of Fairfield and area to worship with the ringing out of the historic bell that was cast in England in 1858 for the Fairfield Female College. Both the bell and the church serve as reminders of Fairfield's past and promising future.

The present pastor is the Reverend Thomas Gray, Choir Director, L. C. Williamson and Chairman of the Board is Dr. J. H. Keller. They extend to everyone a cordial invitation to attend the services. Bishop Copeland is well known in the area and has a brother, "A. A. "Buck" Copeland, who lives in Corsicana, other relatives and many, many friends.

Dawson's Delight

Anjanette Comer, pictured above in a scene from the Warner Bros. Seven Arts production of "Rabbit, Run," will be appearing twice on TV screens this week in major made-for-television movies. Miss Comer is a native of Dawson and a veteran of several major Hollywood movies. See today's Sun Country for more details.

Busy girl, that Anjanette Comer. She's Dawson's talented contribution to the silver screen and the home tube and she'll be on view twice this week in network made-for-TV features.

Home folks always get a kick out of watching any local who makes good in the business and even those who don't know or have never met Miss Comer should find watching her an easy task, regardless of the quality of the movies. Coming up first this week is a nail-biter entitled "Five Desperate Women," to be telecast Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. on ABC. Then she joins Peter Lawford, Tony Franciosa and Jim Hutton for a Friday-night thriller called "The Deadly Hunt." That's at 8:30 p.m. on CBS.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Comer, Anjanette was raised in Dawson and graduated from high school there. She's probably best remembered for her parts in Tony Richardson's "The Loved One" — a flick that had everything going for it except audiences — and "The Appaloosa," a Marlon Brando starrer from a few years back.

Miss Comer won't be able to dig her own performances this week, assuming that she's given to that sort of thing; she's in Italy right now, hard at work, we hear, on another movie.....

OUTGOING MAIL—Jim Bush, the 22-year-old environmental activist who has taken the Trinity River Authority and their Houston-to-Dallas canal project to task (see Thursday's Daily Sun), is stockpiling information for those who may be interested in learning about the adverse effects of the canal project. His correct mailing address is Box 1, Route 1, Frost, not as earlier reported.

ON THE OTHER HAND..... It's no surprise that the TRA should take public issue with their detractors over the lawsuit that has been filed in Houston against the Corps of Engineers, a suit which would in effect put an end to the Trinity project. What is surprising, however, is the amount of effort and the intensity with which the organization has chosen to heap their point-of-view upon the public.

Prior to the Sept. 13 filing of the lawsuit, the TRA's public relations arm, the Trinity Improvement Assn., had contended itself with a smooth, well-presented program that brought to Trinity River cities an explanation of the benefits to be derived from the project. As reported in the Daily Sun on other occasions, the attitude of the TRA and Corps of Engineers spokesmen to criticism at these public meetings has been one of conciliation and quiet reason. Press releases have reflected the same attitude.

Considering the clout that the project has enjoyed through its endorsement by one of the state's most powerful lobbies — the industries and businesses of Houston, Dallas and Fort Worth — their public posture since the announcement of the suit is puzzling, certainly disappointing.

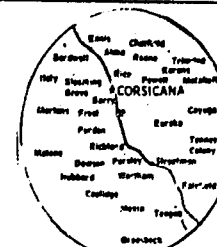

Press releases now are devoted entirely to discussion of the suit with references to the "sincere and dedicated" but uninformed opposition. Public utterances about the suit by TRA general manager David Brune and other spokesmen have had a tone of fierce indignation that indicates an unwarranted super-sensitivity to criticism. If the TRA's case is as strong as it has publicized it to be and they actually enjoy the endorsements and support they claim, then why the heavy-handed, petulant remarks about the p'aintiffs? They've dealt from strength all along and will presumably continue to do; by abandoning their earlier tactic of treating dissenters and detractors with courtesy and by adopting the pose they've obviously assumed, the TRA is only dignifying their opponents at the expense of their own standing.

Remarks by speakers like the TRA's assistant public relations officer W. J. Dickens III — who in a presentation to the Dawson Lion's Club Wednesday managed to make terms like "environmentalist" and "ecologist" sound like terminal diseases — indicate that the organization takes its opposition a lot more seriously than does the public at large. To liken the plaintiffs in the suit to loosely-knit groups of "little old lady bird-watchers" is only cheap name-calling. It may amuse and delight the many advocates of the Trinity River Project, but to some it characterizes the TRA as spoiled children who won't play if they can't captain the team.

Unless the TRA knows that they may be wrong in much of what they've told the public and are merely hoping to shout down opposition, there appears no rhyme or reason to their tactics. It seems a safe bet that the TRA enjoys a well-deserved quorum among the Trinity River area townspeople, so these releases and statements serve no other purpose than to alert people that they are unyielding in the face of adversity.

"To stop the Trinity program for ecological reasons would be something like outlawing farming because it scratches up the earth," reads the latest release from the TRA.

A more pertinent analogy might be: "Criticism is like crabgrass; you only spread it by fighting it, so why not learn to live with it?"

Public Hearing Set for October Decision on Townhouses Delayed by Zoning Board

By BETTY JEAN CLAY
Sun Staff Writer

About 30 interested neighboring homeowners turned out Thursday at the City Planning and Zoning Commission meeting at which Tom Bunch submitted plat maps, floor plans and photographs of the type Townhouses he proposes to construct if a necessary zoning change can be obtained on a 14-acre tract owned by H. O. Olsen.

Bunch said he wouldn't exercise his option to purchase Olsen's land unless he could get it zoned to permit the luxury living accommodations that could either be leased or purchased.

The tract is completely surrounded by single family homes on Bowie Drive, Beverly Dr. and Beverly Dr. East and Oaklawn.

Chairman Campbell Gillespie announced at the outset the meeting was not a public hearing, just an opportunity accorded Bunch by the board to submit detailed information not available when the application was tabled in July. Gillespie further advised no decision would be made Thursday, but rather another public hearing would be held on the application in October. He accorded homeowners opportunity to join zoning commissioners in putting questions to Bunch.

Color photographs were distributed of Townhouse complexes in Dallas' Preston Roads-Preston Trails Golf Club area by Bunch as typical of what he and his associates propose. He displayed plans drawn by his architect which showed a maximum of 89 Townhouses could be constructed on the site, but said he had no intention of building that many, but it was a question the objecting homeowners and Commissioners had raised in July. He explained he would start out with one section, likely on the west, paralleling Bowie Dr., and build on the periphery, facing the center of the property with a circular street.

Although joined together in a row, each Townhouse will be a separate unit with a wall between. Bunch said he contemplated utilizing the central portion of the property for duplex Townhouses. Those constructed on the periphery would have 20-foot paved alleys and garages behind them.

In response to inquiries, he related the Townhouses have been designed so that they are intermingled, some of one story, some of two, as some people don't like to walk up and down stairs. Responding to another inquiry, he said they could not agree to construct only single story units on the outer perimeter and only two story units in the central portion of the property as this would blight the design concept. At the original hearing in July, protesting neighbors had expressed concern on drainage off the property which could cause flooding to homes on northeast where the elevation is lower. Bunch replied he had submitted the site plans to the city engineer for his study and recommendations. He pointed out that having property engineered drainage was equally important to him and his associates in the project which he estimated would be a million dollar investment.

If zoning were to be changed from existing Residential 2 to Multiple Family I classification permitting the project to be under taken, Bunch said it would be a year before construction could begin and five years to complete the project.

Gillespie announced to the audience the architecture drawings, plot plans and oral plans outlined would be submitted to the city engineer and city building official to be checked out by them against all pertinent zoning and building regulations preparatory to the follow-up public hearing in October. The application was retabled until that time.

Building Official Delma Ware informed the board the City Commission had tabled Tuesday recommendations from the zoning board on permitting mobile homes in R-4 residential districts by permit through Ware's office rather than the presently required route of going through them for a specific use permit. He reported that Commissioners P. D. Fullwood and Bob Scott, appointed as a committee to confer with them, would be arranging a conference at an early date as they were unable to attend Thursday's meeting.

Ware informed the Planning and Zoning Board he had written other cities inquiring how they handle mobile homes, and three of those replying thus far, Fort Worth, Dallas and Farmers Branch all replied they permitted mobile homes to be located only in districts zoned for mobile home parks.

The board requested that Ware write cities nearer in size to Corsicana suggesting Palestine, Greenville, Paris, Denison and Jacksonville, so they could get a better picture of the mobile home trend.

New City Engineer Bob Scott discussed with the board interpretations of what constitutes preliminary plat and final plats of new sub-divisions under Corsicana's newly adopted zoning and sub-division ordinances. One of the board's functions is to pass on their recommendations to the City Commission in consultation with the city engineer on plats of sub-divisions to ascertain they meet requirements of the city as to property description, lots, street layouts, provisions for utilities and drainage.

Corsicana Awaits Sales Tax Check

Corsicana is "looking" for a check to arrive in the mails in the next day or so. The check from the State Comptroller's office represents the city's second quarter one cent city sales tax which normally doesn't arrive until around this time each September.

Corsicana's check for the first quarter of this year (January through March) amounted to $73,549, up from $62,786 for the same period in 1970. It didn't arrive until June, however, as payment usually runs three months behind actual collection of both the city and state sales tax by the state.

In 1970, Corsicana received $306,476 from the one cent sales tax which goes to the city's general operating fund with five per cent reserved for the library maintenance. This was an average of $25,539 a month and city officials anticipate it will exceed that amount for 1971 from past growth experience since Corsicana first began receiving this form of revenue in April, 1968, after voters adopted the sale tax measure.

Corsicana received $287,296 in 1969, or an average of $23,941 a month. Sale tax revenue was up by $119,186 in 1970 over 1969. The sales tax was in effect only nine months of 1968 (April through December), first year of its adoption, and produced $198,427 for the city's coffers, City Secretary Nelda Neals records show.

The last quarter of the year, stimulated by Christmas buying, is always the most productive revenue-wise, and the post-Christmas period, January through March, the least as people are buying less, paying off Yuletide indebtedness and income tax.

A comparison of last quarter receipts for the three preceding years reflects the following: 1968—$78,137; 1969—$79,821; 1970—$90,072 for a sizable gain. On the other hand, in the three years applicable to first quarter (January through March) collection, the picture has been thus: 1969—$62,537; 1970—$62,786; and for this year, the only quarter's collection received by Corsicana, it's up to $73,549. A reader writing to Act-Sun recently asking what the city uses sale tax money for related it was their understanding Corsicana received on the average of $74,000 every three months. Figures for the past year show the average was closer to $76,000. Hopefully, 1971 will be even better.
